Sub: Availability of Injection Dantrolene (intravenous) in India.

Respected Sir,

Profound regards and warm greetings from Indian Society of Anaesthesiologists National Head Quarters!

Indian Society of Anaesthesiologists (ISA), the largest body of Anaesthesiologists in India with more than 36,000 members and 225 branches across India, represents clinical, academic and social issues pertaining to anaesthesiologists in India. The anaesthesiologists have worked dedicatedly in the critical care of COVID patients in intensive care units. We, The Members of Indian Society of Anaesthesiologists (ISA) offer ourselves for any duty towards our beloved and great nation India in the impending hour of crisis due to COVID 19 pandemic. We, The Anaesthesiologists, are qualified and trained in critical care/ intensive care, airway management, resuscitation and pain relief.

Sir, it is submitted that Dantrolene intravenous injection is the only known antidote for the life threatening medical condition Malignant Hyperthermia. Malignant hyperthermia (MH) is a hypermetabolic crisis which can occur after an MH-susceptible patient is exposed to a volatile anaesthetic agents or succinylcholine. Dantrolene is the only life-saving injection that is effective in reversing the symptoms of malignant hyperthermia and saves the life of patient, if given in time.

Ideally, injection Dantrolene should be available in all operation theatres (locations) where general anaesthesia is administered. Inability to promptly start dantrolene, when an MH crisis is identified, increases the risk of patient injury or death. The Dantrolene injection is not available in India legally. It is available only in the grey market, without a bill. It is costly and shelf life is short.

You are humbly requested to give necessary instructions to make this drug available in India in the interest of patient care in particular and public at large.

Thank You.

With best wishes and warm regards,

Dr. Venkatagiri KM
President
Indian Society of Anaesthesiologists

Dr. Naveen Malhotra
Honorary Secretary
